No 30 69.—Twelfth Year — BUENOS AYRES, TUESDAY, AUGUST 13, 1872. — Circulation, 3000.

MAUA BANK

101 & 103 CALLE CANGALLO.

The Offices of this Bank having been removed to the above spacious Building, in order to suit the increasing flow of business, the Public is informed that the following transactions are carried on in currency and specie in this Bank:—

First—Bills and obligations with good signatures are discounted on conventional terms.

Second—Money is advanced on mercantile and other securities, approved of by the Manager.

Third—Accounts current are opened with Merchants or other parties who may prefer depositing endorsed and transferable securities, against which they may draw up to an amount previously convened under conditions established for such class of operations.

Fourth—Money is received in account current, bearing interest from day of deposit, which is accumulated in favor of the parties every three months, the depositors being allowed to retire at any time, by means of cheques, part or the full amount, at their wish, save when the quantity exceeds three hundred doubloons, or one hundred thousand dollars currency, in which case forty-eight hours' previous notice is required to be given to the Treasury of the Bank.

Fifth—Bills or letters of credit are drawn and taken on Montevideo, Rosario, Sta. Fé, Salto Oriental, Paysandu, Rio Janeiro, and other places in the Brazils, England, and France, as also on other places, of which due notice will be given hereafter.

Finally, the Bank undertakes and executes all legitimate transactions, within the orbit of banking operation.

The Establishment is always open from 10 a.m. till 3 p.m.

NOTABLE REMATE.

POR
Benjamin Nazar y Cia.

De 16 selectos carneros Rambouillets, sangre pura, y dos borregas id de la cabaña imperial, hoy nacional, venidos por el vapor frances Fenelon, y a la consignacion de los Sres. Bustamante y Galup, en nuestra casa, Calle de la Victoria, N° 154.

El Miercoles, 14 de Agosto, a las 12 en punto, se remataran a la mas alta postura y dinero de contado, los valiosos carneros que a continuacion se espresan, siendo estos todos lo mejor que se puede desear para padres reproductores de la cabana del pais, por ser de la primera cabana Rambouillets que hay en el mundo.

Los carneros numeros 432, 394 y 251 traen cuatro mil francos cada uno o sean sesenta mil pesos m/c. los tres.

Los numeros 323, 468, 441, 348, 344, 321, 316, 030, 282, 405, 465 y 269 de ochocientos a tres mil francos cada uno.

Dos borregas numeros 410 y 519 cada una trae cuatrocientos francos de costo.

Importando los 16 carneros y las dos borregas mas de ciento noventa mil pesos m/c., los que se remataran a la mas alta postura.

Llamamos la atencion de todos los Señores que tienen Cabañas o tropillas finas, para que pasen a examinar por la casa de remat los valiosos carneros, tipos venidos de la Cabaña Imperial, hoy Nacional, los que son sorprendentes por la gran cantidad de lana, especial en finura, rizo largo y configuracion de cada animal, como nunca han venido al pais, a no ser por encargo particular, pagando precios exorbitantes.

NOTA.—Cada carnero trae certificado de la Cabaña con el dia de su nacimiento.

DE UNA ESPLENDIDA
CASA DE ALTOS

Formando esquina a San Martin y Tempie, Calle San Martin num. 244, 246 y 248 y Temple 68 y 70. Magnifico edificio, edificado a todo costo y a la moderna.

EL JUEVES 15 DE AGOSTO,
(Dia de Fiesta).

A las 2 en punto de la tarde, venderemos en remate al contado y al mas alto precio, esta importante propiedad, situada en uno de los parajes mas lindos de esta ciudad, y edificada perfectamente en cal, siendo todo el enmaderage de rico cedro del Paraguay.

La casa alta San Martin 244 se compone de una magnifica sala con portada, ante-sala, 5 grandes piezas mas, cocina, dispensa con altillo, bomba del aljibe, letrina, gas, etc. La escalera, puertas exteriores y persianas son de cedro del Paraguay. Las puertas altas a la uroderna, con sobre marcos y hechas a todo costo. Tiene chimeneas de marmol en varias piezas y esta perfectamente empapelada. El balcon es todo corrido. La vista de la casa nada deja que desear.

Almacen Templo 68—Un gran almacen, formando esquina, con sus puertas y vidrieras de cedro correspondientes, compuesto del almacen y la trastienda patio, cocina, cuarto, altillo, letrina, pozo de balde con su brocal de material.

Casa baja Temple 70—Esta perfectamente edificada como la de altos, siendo las maderas tambien duras can alfajiado doble. Se compone el ler costado, de una harmonisima sala con portada y ante-sala, con tres grandes ventanas con persianas a la calle, 2 grandes cormitorios, teniendo el ultimo un zotano, hecha toda con cal. Las piezas todas entabladas. 2° costado—1 hermoso comedor con chimenea de marm l, ventana a la calle con persiana y piso de mosaico, 1 dormitorio, cocina, altillo, letrina, gas y un gran patio, teniendo en el centro el aljibe con brocal de marmol.

Esta propiedad, como ya lo hemos dicho, esta solidamentr edificada, tanto que desde su adquisicion su propietario nada ha tenido que gastar. Las paredes son todas medianeras. Da un pinque renta de 5860 pesos m/c mensual, aposar de estar alquilada su manente baja, pues su actual propietario es de los que creen, y con mucha razon, que es mejor alquilarla a un precio equitativo a un buen inquilino que cuido la propiedad, que a precio alto a uno que la destruya. Todos los inquilinos tienen contrato, y son inmejorables como tales.

Por mas informes, a nuestro escritorio, San Martin 118

La casa esta asegurada hasta el ano 1873, y los compradores gozaran del beneficio.

DE 150
CARNEROS PADRES RAMBOUILLETS.

El lote mas grande y magnifico que se haya presentado en venta en este pais!

Criados en la Cabaña de los 'Alamos, DEL SR. D. WIFREDO LATHAM.

En nuestra casa, Victoria 154.

EL MIERCOLES 28 Y JUEVES 29
Del Corriente.

A las 12 en punto, venderemos al mejor precio y dinero de contado, por cuenta y orden de dicho Señor:

150 Carneros padres de 15 a 16 meses de edad, con lana correspondiente a esa edad, de la sin igual y aclimatada cria Rambouillets del Sr. D. Wilfred Latham mejorada por eleccion a fin de adaptarlos al pasto natural, terrono, y clima de estos paises.

Escusado es estenderse en demostrar la excelencia de estos carneros. Los Senores Estancieros los conocen ya su perfeccion, pero puede decirse que, si esplendidos han sido los ofrecidos en años anteriores, el presente lote los excede en magnificencia. Han sido criados con la especial mira de que se adaptan a todo lo que pida requerirse, y a la estension y calidad del terreno y pastos en los diferentes paraies del pais.

Por estas razones es que los sres estancieros encontraran en este lote animales en tamaño y peso de su cuerpo, largura y naturaleza de lana, graduados con esmero para adaptarse a toda clase de campos, desde la mas rica tierra negra entre todos los grados de campos buenos y medioceres, como tambien para campos buenos pero menos engordadores que les de la Magdalena y otros mas o menos por estilo.

La calidad de la lana es maravillosamente perfecta y pronunciada, y ninguna cria de merinos de cuerpo pesado pueden chimpararse con estos en lo cortos de piernas y tamaño de cuerpo

Se venderan tambien dos o tres animales de dos anos de edad.

Todos estos carneros estaran a la vista de los interesados en nuestra casa, Calle de la Victoria, No. 154, tres o cuatro dias antes del Remate.

GOVERNMENT MORTGAGE BANK.

Offices—111 CALLE SAN MARTIN.

This Bank will be open to the Public on all business days from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

It advances on real estate to be repaid at long dates.

It pays Mortgage Certificates (Cedulas Hipotecarios) for the amount of the loan it advances, which bear an interest equal to that collected by the Bank.

The value of property offered in mortgage shall not be under two thousand patacons, nor the loan be less than 500 fuertes.

No loan can exceed half the value of the property mortgaged.

The Mortgagor shall bind himself to pay an annual sum so long as the mortgage lasts, said sum to represent the interest on the sum lent the amortization fund and commission to the Bank. This yearly sum shall be paid quarterly or half-yearly.

Series A—Quarterly.

Mortgage for 20 years 117 days, 8 per cent. interest, 2 per cent. amortizatipn, and 1 per cent. commission.

Series B—Quarterly.

Morgage for 27 years 270 days; 8 per cent. interest, 1 per cent. amortization, and 1 per cent. commission.

Series C—Half-yearly.

Mortgage for 20 years 190 days; 8 per cent. interest, 2 per cent. amortization, and 1 per cent. commission.

Series D—Half-yearly.

Mortgage for 28 years 6 days: 8 per cent interest, 1 per cent. amortization, and 1 per cent commission.

Upon the full payment of the yearly sums stipulated in the Mortgage, both property and Mortgagor shall be freed from all further obligation.

The Mortgagor shall be at liberty to anticipate the payments and to discharge the mortgage, all or in part.

Applications for mortgages must be made in writing, specifying the property offered, accompanied by the title deeds, the receipts of the Contribucion Directa tax, and setting forth that the property is free from all incumbrance, or if not the incumbrance that exists thereon, and which is to be paid off by the mortgage. The Secretary of the bank will supply applicants with the forms necessary as also the tables, for amortization.

Quarterly mortgagers shall pay from 8th to 15th of each January, April, July and October, and half yearly mortgagors shall pay between the 8th and 15th of each January and July.

With the amortization fund, mortgage certificates (cedulas) shall be redeemed at par by quarterly and half yearly drawings.

The mortgage Bank pays the interest on the quarterly cedulas or mortgage certificates between the 31st December and 6th January, the 31st March and 6th April, the 30th June and 6th July, the 30th September and 8th October every year, and on the half yearly cedulas from the 31st December to 6th January, and from 30th June to 6th July.

The Mortgage Bank can act between the capitalist and mortgagor, free of charge in the way of realizing the cedulas, and for this purpose will receive deposits without interest, which will receive a preference, and which sums will be deposited in the Provincial Bank.

On and after the 15th February 1872 the Mortgage Bank will be open to the public.

Jose M. La Fuente,
Secretary.

MEET THE VIRUS OF ULCERATION AT ITS SOURCE.—Salves and plasters never yet cured a virulent sore. How can they do so when the poison that feeds it is diffused through the whole volume of the blood? Leg-ulcers, that have defied local treatment for years, are usually pronounced incurable. No grosser error ever existed. A month's persistent use of Bristol's Sarsaparilla will restore the soundness of the diseased limb. It is impossible that internal ulceration should exist when the blood, which is the basis of every atom of the body, is free from all disorganising matter, as it is that smoke should be developed without fire. This matchless combination of vegetable detergents frees the animal fluids from every morbific element, and therefore its cures are radical and final. Use Bristol's Sugar-coated Pills as a purgative in all external diseases accompanied by constipation [cj] ag13

AVISO.

REBAJA DE TARIFA.

El Directorio de esta Compania en el deseo de dar facilidades de comunicacion al comercio por el desenvolvimiento que resultara de la pacification de la Republica Oriental y de las lineas telegraficas de la Republica Argentina, que siguen estendiendose rapidamente, ha resuelto colocar un cabel submarino entre Buenos Aires y Montevideo duplicando asi sus elementos para la transmission de telegramas.

La Compañia espera que la nueva linea estará siempre en aptitud de servir al publico sin los contratiempos é interrupciones que ha sufrida la terrestre durante los disturbios politicos; y en consecuencia el Directorio ha resuelto reducir su tarifa para dar mas impulso a sus operaciones.

En la reunion general de accionistas que tuvo lugar en Glasgow el dia 3 de Julio pasado fue propuesto por el presidente de la compañia (el Sr. D. Juan Proudfoot) y sancionado unanimemente por la reunion, que la tarifa de la compañia desde el dia 16 de Agosto de 1872 sera la siguiente—

Por las primeras diez palabras 1 peso fuerte oro o 25$ m/c.

Por cada diez palabras adicionales 60 cts fuertes o 13$ m/c. de Buenos Ayres a la Republica Oriental, y $1.00 m/n en oro o plata por las primeras diez palabras; y por cada diez palabras adicionales 50 centesimos—de la Republica Oriental a Buenos Ayres.

THE PROVINCE OF CORDOBA.

ITS PRODUCTS, INDUSTRY AND AGRICULTURE.

Cordoba, the heart of the Republic and one of the most important of the Argentine Provinces by reason of its extent, population, and undeveloped resources, is not making such advancement as we might expect. The Central Argentine Railway brought it into connection with the seaboard in May 1870, and the National Exhibition in the following year caused a momentary activity. Then it relapsed into its sleepy condition of mediaeval repose, and we must not be surprised to find that the Post-office returns shew the Province of Santa Fé, with less than half the population of Cordoba, stands for 3 times as much intellectual activity, in other words that one inhabitant of Santa Fé stands for as much as 8 Cordobeses in all that the world calls progress.

As usually happens, Nature is most bountiful where Man is most ungrateful, and the resources of Cordoba, mineral, pastoral, agricultural and industrial, are of the most varied and luxuriant character. An interesting report by Miguel Argueño, drawn up for the Government of Cordoba, has been published in the papers of that city, and being too lengthy for our columns we can only give our readers a precis as follows—

The area of the Province is close on 100,000 sq. miles, the western portion being traversed by a Sierra which runs over 200 miles from north to south, with an average width of 20 to 25 miles. These mountains are of granitic formation, and contain veins of gold, silver, copper, lead, iron, marble, chalk &c. The rest of the province is level and may be described as one-half wood, one-half pampa: the subsoil is argillaceous, the vegetable loam varying from ten to twenty inches in depth. The climate is temperate, in general excessively dry, partly owing to the distance inland and relative height over the sea, partly to want of rivers or lakes. Drought frequently occurs, but the rainy season usually begins in September, and again in March. The driest time is about mid-winter (June), when fogs are common. Humboldt accounts for this by supposing that the sea vapors dissolve into rain near the coast in winter, and come inland to the mountain heights in summer.

There are four principal rivers, Primero, Segundo, Tercero and Cuarto, with numberless arroyos, which are so many torrents in the rainy season, and if the water were collected by means of dams, canals and aqueducts it would serve to irrigate and utilize vast tracts now of no value. The irrigation system at the old Jesuit mission of Santa Catalina in the Sierras may serve as a model for the rest of the province.

The fauna of Cordoba comprise all the useful animals of Europe imported by the Spaniards, which multiplied exceedingly, but degenerated in kind, being suffered to run wild in the Pampas, for the climate is so benignant that they need neither housing nor attention. European Governments have founded model-farms and 'cabañas' for the improvement of breeds; even Chile has preserved a splendid breed of Andalusian horses; but at the Cordoba Exhibition the animals chiefly calling attention were double-headed calves and foals with five legs.

As pastoral industry must always form one of the chief occupations of Cordoba it would be well for the estancieros to begin the new epoch of improvement by fencing in their lands, at a cost say of $1,000 per sq. league. The ordinary value of land is about $4,000 per league, which unfenced will feed 500 head, and fenced double that number: by fencing the cost of peons is diminished, besides avoiding robbery and losses, lawsuits and quarrels with neighbors, and the animals fatten so much better that Cordoba could then supply Chile with live beef, and send prime preserved meat to Europe.

Cordoba counts several million goats and sheep: the former will prove highly valuable when crossed with Angoras; as regards sheep they are much neglected, no fine rams introduced, and the ewes kill many of their lambs by licking them, which is ascribed to the want of salt. Swine would suit admirably of attended to, as they could be fed in peach plantations, which would give their flesh a fine flavor. Horses are so numerous that droves of mares are exported annually to Peru: the breed especially in the Sierras is small. Sportsmen would find abundance of game; tigers, wild boars, wild cats, foxes, hares, rabbits, weasels, pole-cats, wild-goats, guanacos, ostriches, deer, lions, ant-bears, hurones, ampalaguas, aguaraces, corzuelos &c.

Agriculture is destined to be the great wealth of Cordoba, but hitherto it has been disregarded, notwithstanding the favorable soil and climate; a little maize and wheat are raised, but most of the flour used in Cordoba is brought from San Juan and Mendoza. The best plan with crops would be to rotate wheat and alfalfa, putting cattle in to graze on the latter every second year and thus enriching the ground. The yield of maize is prodigious, often 300-fold, but as the grain is so cheap and bulky as not to be worth exporting it would suit to fatten pigs as they do in the maize fields of North America. Steam and water mills can be erected to grind the corn, and prevent Cordoba from using Chilian or North American flour.

While the men are occupied in the fields it is necessary to have some industry for the women and children in the houses. Tobacco, linseed, flax sweet potatoe and 'mani' meet the purpose, as they thrive amazingly. From linseed and 'mani' may be extracted superior oil, the second being equal to best olive. Flax will give occupation to a number of spinners. Sweet-potatoe can be used for producing sugar, and the husks will fatten swine.

Farming implements at present are of the same rude description as used in Spain on the Campagna di Roma. The Argentine Government seems bent on encouraging the most improved machinery as used in the U. States or England, but the Cordobeses care little about such things, and as only 5 percent. of them can read or write it is impossible to teach them in this line unless by model-schools or farms. At my establishment of Ascochinga I have put up a steam-thresher which gives admirable results, although at times I am at a difficulty for a mechanical engineer.

Fruits of every kind thrive in various places: the peach only misses about once in 8 years; the apple, pear, fig, cherry, plum, damson, quince, walnut yield abundantly, as well as grapes of different classes, and a fruit called "nopal" from which molasses and brandy are made. Figs dried and badly put up are exported to the seaboard.

The forest wealth of Cordoba is considerable, comprising such valuable woods as algarrobo, quebracho, moye piquillin, albarricoque, chañar, mistol, tintitaco, guyacan and coco. The moye and algarrobo barks are good for tanning.

There is a Government property called Estancia de Caroya, with a massive building, to which is attached an estate of 50 sq. leagues [or 334,000 acres], situate about ten leagues from Cordoba, on the route of the railway to Tucuman; its value is about 100,000$, and yet it does not produce to Government more that 2,000$ yearly rent. This would be an admirable place for the establishment of a School of Agriculture: it has water-power to turn a mill, besides wood and pasture and poor natives who might be employed as peons. Such an institution would powerfully promote agricultural interests in this Rip Van Winkle part of the Republic.

HOW TO COLONIZE.

On Oct. 27th 1836 that portion of the Australian continent which now goes by the name of South Australia was formed into a colony, the population then amounting to 85,821. A Governor was appointed by the Queen of England, and the colonists were to elect 18 Senators and 36 Deputies to make their laws.

The success of this colony is the most marvellous in history, all owing to a wise land-law, thanks to which the following statistics are shewn—acres.

Lands purchased from the Crown	3,992,188.
Do. rented under pasture....	27,000,000
Do. under wheat cultivation..	692,508

The wheat crop of 1871 amounted to 3,967,097 bushels, and yet the population is only 185,000 or one-third that of the Province of B. Ayres. The revenue is less than 4 million dollars, or one-fifth that of the Argentine Republic. The proposed railway from Adelaide to Port Darwin will be 2,000 miles long and cost over ten millions sterling, the Government giving a land grant of 35 blocks alternately on the right and left of the line, each block having 6 million acres or 900 square leagues: the line to be completed by 1890.

If we could only adopt the same system in B. Ayres with the public lands, and get out five or ten thousand agricultural settlers yearly, we might soon see the same brilliant results. In South Australia any man can buy land at £1 per acre, payable in 10 years: thus in B. Ayres the Government might sell small fractions or five, ten or twenty 'cuadras' at $fts 20 per cuadra, payable in ten years, instead of the present impracticable method of selling nothing less than a square league, or 6,400 acres for the smallest lot, and after endless bother with the officials.

When we bear in mind that the first batch of white men landed in South Australia, under Capt. Hindmarsk, on Christmas Day, 1836, and that in a single generation [without gold discoveries, or extraordinary aid in any form] this little handful of settlers, belonging to the humblest ranks in life, has created a little Republic that produces four million bushels of wheat, keeps under cultivation nearly one million acres, and maintains an import and export trade with England to the value of five and a half millions sterling [or nearly as much as Portugal and Denmark together], we are struck with astonishment at the eloquence of these figures.

The population of South Australia is considerably less than that of the Province of Cordoba, yet the inhabitants have under tillage more than all the Argentine provinces collectively, and have already paid the British Government 4 millions sterling for as many acres of land purchased from the crown at £1 an acre. You may travel for hundreds of miles [says an English writer] through the farms of South Australia, where all was desert 30 years ago, and the quality of wheat is so fine that it took the first prize at the Great Exhibition.

PARIS LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

July 8th. 1872.

The Assembly listened to the reading of the report for the ratification of the German treaty in silence and voted the convention without debate. There was Hobson's choice in the matter. People are not content with the treaty, but are commencing to perceive the extension of a year for the payment of the final milliard, and in that case by banker's bills, if Barkiss be willin, is both politic and prudent, though very galling; the nation begins to comprehend the magnitude of the ransom to be settled, and the difficulty of collecting the vast sum; and it knows the Germans are only too willing to return home when the account has been receipted. M. Thiers has studied the situation, and is aware the longer the invader remains, the more time is given to solve the problem of a stable republic. It is the Germans who more then indirectly respond for the order in France. After the greatness of France depended so long on force, it would not be amiss that it should rest now on Sagacity. She has often shown the world how she could conquer, her triumph will not be less glorious to prove she knows also to be conquered. Two things remain to be accomplished, to provide that the army of occupation be installed in barracks and huts as it retires, increasing like a snow ball, in the last territory to be held, and not billeted on the poor people. The second matter is, to raise the required loan

Before the world can be invited to lend, France must present a clear debit and credit account of her standing, above all of her resources of taxation. The revenue required has not yet been found, but will, for it must be. M. Thiers's protection views have died a natural death—so that a good deal of rubbish is thus consequently cleared away, and no occasion given for his resignation. The Assembly is fumbling rather than debating the proposition of taxing the annual total of business transactions or net profits. Whichever he selected for bleeding, a deficit will still remain, more difficult as no article rests to be taxed—pianos and bachelors excepted, and an increase of rates would be unfruitful; indeed light is required to be thrown upon the productiveness of certain of the imposts. A Roman once offered a reward to the discoverer of a new pleasure. France is willing to recompense the finder of a new scheme of taxation—the income tax excepted, which everyone knows to be the perfect cure.

The Monarchists have had nothing but hornets' nests about their ears since their foolish visit to M. Thiers. They are now fighting amongst themselves; and the Duc d'Aumale, finding the intrigue has failed, naturally denounces it—disowns the Pilgrim Fathers. There are explanations still in the journals and pamphlets about that ridiculous interview, that it meant nothing, etc. For future guidance, such delegates ought to remember that when they have nothing to say they ought to say nothing. There is less talk about conspiracies, and the lists of the intended Cabinet Ministers are no longer sought after.

Two very bad characters were shot on Saturday at Satory—Baudouin and Rouillac. They were rather vulgar criminals than Communists; they were gaol patriots, prison birds that Trochu liberated, armed, etc. The execution had a few unusual incidents: the condemned blasphemed, whistled, and laughed during the few hours which elapsed between the announcement to them of their doom and the execution of it: one of them swore only he were handcuffed he would kill the policeman who guarded him, and the other brutally kicked the pious old priest who came to minister consolation.

It appears that the shooting hitherto made by the firing parties was the consequence of the soldiers being overcome by the culprits staring at them when they took aim; hence the new regulation adopted for the first time in the present execution, of bandaging the condemned's eyes, and tying to the post by their arms and waists. The two men struggled horribly to resist this tying, but when effected each received the 12 balls, and the bodies looked horrible, leaning forward a bleeding, shattered mass. For persons interested in the working of the new guillotine a 'programme' is now published—costing but two sous, of the times, and the dates when 'monsieur de Paris' will pay his visit with his pocket guillotine. There are ten criminals to be 'decapitated' in France during the present month, to say nothing of the interludes expected at Satory. The two young Tunisian merchants to be beheaded at Marseilles are considered the most interesting subjects.

While on the subject of M. Roques, the executioner for all France, an editor states he accidentally met him leaving the pay office of the Treasury, where he had been to receive his monthly salary of 3,000 fr. Roques evidenced, as progress of liberal ideas, that hitherto the pen he used was kept apart, handled with a tongs; now every one wishes to sign with it.

One of the staff of the Gaulois, in a recent description of the Duc Decazes in the Tribune, alluded to his white linen, and suggested the matter as worthy of study by the Reds—a M. Tirard especially. This Deputy requested to see the writer, met him outside the Palace, assured him all work deserved payment, and administered him a kick. The punished sent his two friends, but M. Tirard declines to fight, and promises to renew his system of treatment if a new occasion arises.

M. Jules Favre being unable, despite all his frantic attempts to obtain a hearing in the Assembly, is preparing for publication his "Personal Souvenir."

There is something like a new monetary crisis in Paris, arising from a deficiency of the five-franc bank notes, and silver. It is unpleasant, but will not last long, and is the early symptom that people are commencing to hoard up for the coming loan. So far as my personal experience is concerned, I must say, I could not obtain the change for a twenty franc note in one of the principal 'magazins,' yesterday, where I had purchased a pair of gloves.

In some of the bathing establishments on the river, many of the bathers have embroidered on their bathing costume—'Vive la république!' 'Vive Thiers!' 'Vive Gambetta!' The Orleanists and Legitimists have no chance.

The remains of the two thousand Communists, buried in the slopes of Chaumount, the last stand of the Federals, where the mitrailleuses mowed them down as the speediest plan of execution, will be removed in a few days to the new cemetery. The hill sides are also pock-marked with shells, many of them unfortunately still 'alive.'

More important for France than political conspiracies and mediæval economy is the commission of the Assembly appointed to enquire into the Social question. Employers and employed, masters and men, equally and freely give their evidence; and the commissioners press all. Writers to furnish a solution for evils pointed out are invited to consider objections made and to return with the results of their studies. It is admitted that a married man with a family cannot support himself on the present rate of wages; the miracle is that he does, wretchedly of course, and better in proportion as his wife and children work also. The misfortunes of the Parisian 'ouvriers' are not due to their misconduct; the Chamber of Commerce instituted an inquiry in 1860, and classified workmen as good, doubtful, and bad. The house painters were the worst conducted and led the most irregular lives. After the blacksmiths, the masons are the trades whose members possess most of fixed homes.

It is calculated that a workman with a wife and two infants, cannot by the most pinching economy live on less than eight francs per day, five being required for purchasing food. The following is the summer rate, in francs, of daily wages of a few trades; during winter they are about one-fourth less: laborers, 4; stone-cutters, 5½; masons, 5½; plumbers, 6; smiths, according to kind of work, from 3 to 7; carpenters, 6; slaters, 6½; marble workers; 6½. During 35 years ending 1862, the rate of wage only increased by 17 per cent., while the cost of living has augmented 45 per cent; at present sugar, coffee, &c. have been advanced one-third in price since the war. What the working classes in France most require is the right to shelter in their old age; there are no Union houses in the country, the organization for the relief of the poor depends on volunteers, and the funds are the proceeds chiefly of vicarious charity. The State has been urged to tax every workman one franc monthly and at a certain age give him the right of admission into a national asylum, but not a workhouse. The less the government has to do with finding a solution for the social question the better—beyond affording facilities for workmen to combine. When artizans eschew politics and persevere, depending only on themselves, they can found successful co operative societies. However, the tendency at present is for the employer to enter into partnership with his employed, giving fixed wages, and an annual share in the net profits. One of the principal piano manufactrurers in this city has just held his yearly gathering, where his work people sat down to a banquet, and at dessert received a dividend of 15 per cent. on their salaries.

The French are anything but an idle people; they are constant, if not hard workers, and seem to enjoy their labour as they do their meals, however slender, or their amusements, however humble. They are frugal, inclining a little to parsimony, in any case better than extravagance or improvidence. Bread is the staple dietary, four sous per pound; then wine, twelve sous the quart. The pork-butcher's shop supplies fragments of cooked or uncooked meat; the 'traiteurs' furnish broth and beef at various prices; but the 'pot au feu' at home is generally composed of plenty of fresh and cheap vegetables, boiled with a morsel of lard, cheap butter, or fat bacon, in the absence of beef. In this the bread is dipped, perhaps washed down with some wine and water, or a little cup of coffee. Bad beer and cheese, and a little fruit, appear as luxuries, or occasionally replace the other articles of food, as necessaries.

A French gentleman has delivered a lectnre in the Grand Hotel, where he ventilated his ideas of an 'Universal Caravan.' Up to the present Paris was considered just to be that. However, it is proposed that an army of pilgrims, selected from the Upper Ten, should form themselves into a joint stock company, and in the course of three years, at the rate of 1100 francs per month, 'do' the world. There are to be 'rests' of three months each in Greece, Japan, and Paris. Scientific men are affectionately invited to enroll. The more numerous the excursionists, the better the expedition will be qualified to fight its way. Of course when the moment of action comes, the commander of the caravan will imitate Napoleon's Egyptian order of the day: "Asses and savants to the rear."

There is a peaceful fight at present taking place respecting Belleville, this now 'damned spot.' But a century ago it was the most aristocratic suburb of Paris; its heights were covered with the palaces of the nobility and Mme de Pompadour selected her 'Retreat' there. In 1800 the population of the quarter was only 1100, it is now nearly 80,000. So rapid has been its growth, or so quickly had the working classes been improved out of Paris by Baron Haussmann, that in their seeking refuge in Belleville, no time was afforded to make streets or build houses. It was like an infant colony; the streets were laid out by chance and the houses by accident. As the laboring population arrived, the 'bourgeoisie,' the petty annuitant, and the commercial clerk immigrated into Paris. A gentleman now recommends citizens to select Belleville as a 'secure' and healthy place of residence. It was accident gave it a bad name under the Commune. Not an Alsacian even has yet pitched his tent there. The Municipal Council has voted one million francs to build an hospital in Belleville, and the rue Haxo, where the fifty hostages were butchered during the Commune, is to be occupied by a chapel, a convent, a 'creche,' a convalescent hospital and an hospice for old men. The sooner the better; it is a most lugubrious spectacle to witness nailed against the wall where the innocents were massacred, those white, black, and yellow 'immortelles' dedicated to "my husband,' 'my father,' 'my son,' &c.

The 'Fourth' was observed with all due honours by American citizens, by a banquet at the Grand Hotel. About 80 guests sat down to dinner, the ticket for which cost 50 francs. One Paris paper 'well informed' like its three score and ten contemporaries, announces it was a symposium given in honour of Lieutenant Grant, now within our walls! Paris has seen brighter and gayer anniversaries. The exclusion of the ladies was a drawback, and there was a shade too much of 'original poetry.' Our next merry meeting may be better.

The synod of the Reformed Church continues to labour in its work of organization. Having never possessed, it could not keep, the even tenor of its way. Its disputes all but killed old Guizot, and the Moderator has been attacked by paralysis since the delegates, forgetting they were clergymen, began to indulge in such club epithets as 'liar' and 'insulter,' with more than apostolic knocks on their desks. In the Assembly it is the 'Left' that goes about like the roaring lion; in the Synod it is the 'Right' that does the devouring business. The synod has some trying resolutions affecting faith, as well as discipline, yet to dispose of.

M. Natel, 'avocat,' has just published three volumes on the life of Charlotte Corday and the Girondins. He has collected every souvenir connected with the Norman lass and her victim Marat, which are free to strangers for inspection. The first volume examines the thirty-five tragedies, written in various languages, founded on the death of Marat etc. Charlotte, it appears, had no 'love in her heart;' it was a feeling of friendship mixed with tenderness for Bougon-Longrais, a public prosecutor whose eloquence and virtues she admired, that forced her to stab Marat, one of whose ances'ors was married to a Corday; and, by a curious coincidence, three daggers formed the armorial device of her family. Marat professed to live miserable. The apartment where he received was wretched, but all his other rooms were sumptuous. His wife was beautiful and accomplished: in his marriage he dispensed with both priest and lawyer; he knelt on one knee, took the bride's hand in his, called the universe to witness he loved Simonne Evrard before all women, and regained his feet a Benedict. This beats the late Gretna Green.

An American dentist was called in by a young and blooming countess to extract a tooth; she hesitated to undergo the operation, when a young man consoled her by showing there was no pain and submitted to have a sound tooth drawn to encourage the sufferer. The Countess consented. The dentist related this instance of conjugal affection in a ball room and created a sensation, as the husband of the countess is a very old man with not half-a-dozen teeth in his head.

The celebrated painting so much admired in this Season's Exhibition, 'The daughter of Herodias,' by Lery, displays St. John's head on the Salver. Meyra the poet paid to have his head taken as the model, he is now called the 'decapité chantant.'

It is said that Sr. Villegas, Argentine Consul at the Mount, will resign and be replaced by Sr Escardo.

The eldest type setter in the United States is Mr Lawson Bary of Tennessee; he commenced life in 1797, and is now 93 years of age; he still occasionally takes a turn at his case.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The S.S. Calderon arrived at Montevideo from Rio on Sunday, and the Edinburgh Castle from Liverpool yesterday morning. Mr. Stand—by O'Gorman favoured us with a telegraphic dispatch on both days. The Brazilians continue preparations for war, and the Mitre mission, as far as the public is informed, continues "in statu quo antes". An attempt to assassinate the gallant young sovereign of Spain has, happily, failed. The rate of discont in England has risen a half per cent., owing to the preparations to receive the French Loan. Applications for double or treble the amount required are expected. General news from Europe uninteresting.

The Royal Mail steamer Douro will sail to-morrow afternoon for Southampton. Our Packet Edition, which appears this day at noon, contains a full description of the Drabble Banquet, with the addition of some names inadvertently omitted in our last issue, and the correction of a few typographical errors &c.

Mud and Mizzle reigned supreme on Sunday, trams, trains and travellers all suffering from the abominable weather, which also played "Old Harry" with the attendance at the theatres by night. Old Sol made several desperate attempts to break the battalions of cloud that hung over the city yesterday, and about cocktailing time succeeded.

The following is the list of distinguished Italians recently decorated by His Majesty the Emperor of Brazil:—"In Italy, Viscontes Venosta and Manzoni, are effective Grand Crosses of the Rose: Peruzzi, Grand Cross; Fiorelli, Dignitary; and De Lucca and Palmieri, Commanders; Cardinal D. Pitra Grand Cross of the Order of Christ. Order of the Rose: C. Correnti, Grand Cross; Father Secchi and Baron Rosa, Rossi, Philippe Parlatore, Dr. Carlucci and S. Thommasi, Commanders; Baron Gasparini, Luigi Passerini, Sr. Volpicelli and Tito Angelini, Officers; Sr. Marianni, Sr. Tossinari, Professors Miguel Amari, Amici and Gherardi, Sr. Epinay, Arnaldo Fusinato, Professor Fabretti, Giacomo Bertini and Michel Angelo Gualandi, Knights."

Major J. F. Rickard F.R.G.S. left town on Sunday "en route" for Montevideo, to catch the Pacific steamer for Europe, the Araucania, which was to sail from the sister port yesterday, but had not arrived from the Coast.

We beg to call the attention of the public to an advertizement by Mr. and Mrs. Starkweather, 207 Calle Artes in another column. Mr. Starkweather is well and favourably known to a large circle in this city.

We were quite taken aback yesterday by hearing that a party who absconded from a bank here about a year ago after an abortive attempt on his employer's cash, has absolutely succeeded in entering a similar establishment at home, in a confidential position. This is not all. An influential gentleman in the neighbourhood, having heard from a relative in this country of the fellow's exploits here, ventured to hint that he was not the man for a position of trust, whereupon we understand, an action was immediately entered against him for "defamation of character", and a jury awarded damages. The force of "cheek" can no further go. It is clear a new leaf must be turned over with these gentry (rather too numerous lately in Buenos Ayres) and the fullest particulars of their "little games" be published and sent home.

A "lark" was lately played on the Telegraph line between Frayle Muerto and Villa Maria that gave the clerks an infinite deal of trouble to discover. Some scamp cut the wires and tied them together again neatly with catgut. The electric current was, of course, stopped, and a considerable time elapsed before the trick was found out.

Does any respectable reader acknowledge any lingering interest in our "fat friend" "the Claimant"? if so, the following is the "very latest" about him from Wales, a place remarkable for a curate news about everything and everybody:—

"The South Wales Daily News says: "We have received a long and carefully-written statement of the particulars of an interview which recently took place at Swansea, between Mr. Whalley, M.P., and Mr. B. Biggs, of 64, Bute-street, Cardiff. In this document the writer, Mr. Biggs, declares he recognised the "Claimant" as Arthur Orton, and informed Mr. Whalley that he knew him "by his features, the general expression of his countenance, and his hair". The writer also states that he saw Orton in Australia, who described himself to be the son of a "shipping butcher, at Wapping, London". Mr. Biggs further declares that he bought a double-barrelled gun of the "Claimant", at the time he knew him as Arthur Orton, and gave £2 for it. He further alleges that he recognised 'Sir Roger', as Orton directly he entered the public room in which the meeting was held at Swansea, and that he and two friends who were with him remarked that the "Claimant" appeared to fix his eyes on him (Mr. Biggs) in evident recognition as soon as he came into the place. The communication which we have received details at length the interview which Mr. Biggs had with Mr. Whalley and the "Claimant's" friends; and the allegation that the writer of it knew the "Claimant" as Orton, when in Australia, is reiterated in every page." The Western Mail has received from a correspondent quite another story. He was sitting in company with the claimant and some friends in his private sitting-room at Swansea, when Mr. Richard Hill, late colour-sergeant in the 3rd Battalion Rifle Brigade, and now a local drill instructor, who was quartered with the regiment at Canterbury at the time the 6th Dragoon Guards came to the cavalry barracks was introduced to the claimant. The two compared notes, and after long conversation which the correspondent details:—Mr. Whalley asked, Do you think Sir Roger anything like him (the claimant)? Mr. Hill replied, Yes; I can swear to his forehead and eyebrows as being those of Mr. Tichborne, and I recognised in him the same gentleman that sits there most certainly. That is Mr. Roger Tichborne, of the Carabineers, and I haven't seen him since 1852 till now.

According to a Montevidean colleague the French tragedienne Alfieri met with a very indifferent reception from the public of Bahia on her appearance in seanne d'Ari.

A leading Argentine estanciero expressed an opinion to us yesterday that in ten years the Angora goat industry in this country will equal that in sheep. What do you think of this Mr. Barker?

Our advices from the BO. state that some very queer doings have lately come to light in the Custom Houses of Palmyra, Mercedes and Carmelo. No particulars have yet been made public, but it is said that Sr Alvarez the Inspector of Customs, has discovered some contraband smuggling schemes on a prodigious scale.

A meeting of consignees and dealers in the South Plaza was held on Saturday at the Sala Comercial with the object of petitioning the Southern Railway to make some change in the present tariff on sheepskins. A committee chosen from the meeting afterwards waited on Mr. Cooper, who promised to lay their request before the Local Committee, and do everything he could to meet their views.

All the plans and estimates for the new town of General Brown are now at the Topographical Department.

We received the following depressing matrimonial intelligence from the States by the last mail—"Matrimony is getting to be so scarce in Michigan that the Good Templars of a town there recently made quite a handsome profit by offering the use of their hall for the marriage of a casual pair who had eloped from another State, and charging 15 cents admission to those who wished to witness the ceremony."

Mr. Blanes, the great painter, has gone back to the Mount and taken with him his famous picture of "The Review at Rancagua." Somebody said last week that a very high personage had offered him the very high figure of £800 for the painting, but such is not the case.

A prisoner in the jail of Cordova shammed illness lately with the intention of trying to escape. The doctors blistered and dosed him to such an extent however, that in a few days he was as thin as a whipping post or an old maid, and as weak as a cat or a bad tumbler of punch. He then confessed the hoax and cried Hold-enough! to the 'medicos,' who were thoroughly disgusted at being 'sold.'

'On dit' that ear rings are going out of fashion amongst the fair leaders of 'ton' in Paris, but we believe wedding rings are still as great favourites as they have been since the days of Adam.

The monthly cost of the new post cars which Mr. Posadas proposes to establish in this province will only be a trifle over 3,000 pats., not an extravagant sum for a reform that is badly wanted.

We hear daily complaints of the irregularity of unloading the railway waggons at the Once, of late trains, one time bill at the stations, and another in the papers, etc., etc. Perhaps the late change of managers may have something to say to this, and that the new 'whip' has not got the ribbons well in hand yet. At present things are slightly at sixes and sevens; and for all we know may reach eights and tens next week.

We had advice yesterday of a horrible murder committed at Bahia Blanca on the night of the 1st of June. An old man, one of the founders of the Italian Colony, was murdered in his own house. The object was plunder as the victim was thought to be rich. The box in which he kept his money was found in a neighbouring garden, and traces of blood were found from the murdered man's dwelling to the house and aforesaid garden of the suspected individual and where the money box was found; still the authorities have as yet taken no steps. Great excitement prevails. A threat of death was written on the door of another Italian, and all the Italians in the place are about to apply to their Minister here. The Indians are trading quietly with the settlers. The military party won the elections.

We hear from Chascomus that there is a project on foot for starting a Theatre and "Café Chantant" in that rising town. The Chascomusians will be all right once under the mellowing and civilizing influence of the "Cancan". Hurrah for Progress and the "corps de ballet".

Robberies are almost as rife at the Mount as here. Last week the houses of Messrs. Romana & Co. and Mr. Lewis were broken into, but in neither case did the thieves get much plunder. Only a few "rewolwers".

Ruy Blas will be performed to night at the Colon Theatre for the benefit of Sr. Ranciri "chef d'orchestre".

We bail with pleasure any one to our shores who in doing so comes not only with the intention of profiting thereby or adding to his personal gains, but at the same time considers the public weal. We believe such is the intention of Mr. Edward Hayes, a well known mechanical and consulting engineer in the South of England, who is introducing his magnificent steam yacuts or tugs into the Plate, which are intended for purposes of business or pleasure. They are a class or species of craft which are now very common in all our English ports and on all our navigable rivers and canals, and we really believe we are not far from stating the truth when we say that the day is not far distant when any private firm or company (especially those whose whole business "goes down to the sea in ships") will consider themselves not wholly established unless their working plant includes a handy steam yacht or tug. We may add that their first cost is a mere nominal one, and their boilers, which are made of the best materials, are so constructed that if coal is scarce and difficult to be had, steam can be easily kept up by burning wood, peat, or any other fuel of an inferior kind; and all we ask of those interested is, to turn over to our advertising columns.

We received the following by the last American mail:—

"An interesting beast has just passed away at Chicago. The New York Herald announces the death at that town on the 8th ult. of the 'celebrated performing elephant Romeo, the largest and most valuable of his species ever brought to America, and more famous than any who have gone before him". The occurrence, says the Herald, will excite interest in almost every city, town, or village in America; but to judge by the account given of the career of the deceased, the news of his death must, we imagine, be received with some sense of relief. Romeo, it seems, has killed five keepers since his advent in America, "besides destroying any number of fences, barns, garden patches, corn-fields, orchards", &c. He was bought in Calcutta about 25 years ago, having been taken from a brickyard where he was used in grinding clay. The price paid for him was $10,000 in gold, and he was brought to America with nine others. His left eye was shot out in 1865 near Philadelphia, and his hide bore the scars of numerous bullets and red hot irons used to subdue him at different times when he insisted on committing depredations. He stood 11ft. 2½in. high., and is supposed to have been 100 years old.

ON 'CHANGE

August 12, 1872.

Ounces	400
Sovs	122½
Pats	25
National Bonds	74½

This was a most exciting day on 'Change. In the morning things ruled quiet enough, but in the afternoon when positive news arrived of the closing of the Franco-Platense Bank, there was a shake in the market. The king entered later on, and threw 100,000 bonds on the market, which he sold at one-fourth under the quotation, and seemed ready to get rid of the stock at any figure. This business, of course, tumbled everything, yet nothing was known amongst the brokers until a private telegram was announced from London, dated 19th July, which gave a fall of six per cent. in Argentine stocks in that market. When this was known on change the bottom might be fairly said to be out of the tub—everyone wanted to sell, but buyers there were none, and there was a regular panic in the market. None seemed prepared to measure the possible extent of the fall. All agreed that the thing was serious, and possibly to-morrow's business will prove the real tone of Bonds. The fall in Argentine Stock in London is purely attributed to the news of impending war between Brazil and this Republic having arrived in England about 17th or 18th ult.

The failure of the Franco Platense Bank which was mooted in Montevideo on Saturday, and telegraphed to the Club on Sunday, was only a reality to-day at 2.30. It appears that all day to-day Mr. Stump and his friends used every exertion in Montevideo to keep the concern afloat, but failed. Mr. Agente, the agent here, telegraphed that he would send down funds to-night but received answer that all was hopeless, and that the bank stopped to-day at 2.30. There is very little known here about this bank, as it is entirely a Montevidean concern; but it was said to-day on 'Change that one party in this market is a heavy loser in the concern.

The sales of Bonds during business hours to-day were as follow—

For cash, nothing.

August 31st, 15,000, 75¾-75¾.

September 30th, 10,000, 76.

In the Liquidation 100,000 sold at from 75½ to 75, cash,

When the news from London spread, there was no price, either for cash or on time.

Cedulas Hipotecarias are weak.

1200 Series A at 95¾.

12,000 do do at 95¾.

Exchange appeared to close to-day for the packet bills were passed at 49⅞ 60d, and 49¼, on Antwerp 5, 28.—, 30 and on France about the same: the business for this packet is said to be small, say about £220,000 in all, and the regular exchange business of this market was somewhat interrupted this packet by the large amount of Chilian bills passed by the Argentine Bank.

A late telegram from Liverpool gave tallow at 44½, falling and N. Y. hides 28 and down.

The telegram from Montevideo to-day gave as follows:—

"Genoa, Poitou.

"Savannah, Fanny—J M Letham.

"Pernambuco, Marguerita.

"Antwerp—Dry and salt hides firm.

"Cows' looked for and rise expected.

"Tallow the same; wools looking up.

"Havre markets good. A rise in salted hides looked for. Wools in better position."

Telegrams from New York announce that locusts have done great damage to the cotton crop in the States.

Exchange—Bank 25½.

Montevideo—paper 1⅞; Extraordinary Debt 58¼ and Nov. home 54¾; 55 for October.

On Sunday a very important sale of real estate was effected at Belgrano, a square of land on the main road near to Mr Plowes, with good house, monte, quinta &c. for 500,000 m/c, Messrs. Carrido & Massino purchasers.

Messrs Repetto and Co are now building a large saladero, at Atalaya Magdalena, near the saladero of Messrs Silges and Ferrando. It seems this new saladero will very soon be finished, and ready to work for the new faeno.

The packet has brought advices of a rather extraordinary character respecting an event which took place in this market about a year ago; and in adverting to this matter we call attention to the very improper system in this market of not publishing the fullest particulars respecting every swindle or fraud when it occurs. The case which we now bring under the notice of merchants and bankers is one in point, and it is to be hoped will not be lost sight of. Some time last year a fraud was attempted by a clerk of the Wanklyn Bank, who substracted from a specie box the sovereigns about to be shipped to Montevideo. Owing to the sagacity of Mr. Garcia, the cashier, the fraud was detected before the box left the bank. The police were at once called in; suspicion fell upon a clerk named Owen; he was at once arrested, and so conclusive were the proofs against him that not only did he confess his guilt, but the sovereigns were all found. The STANDARD published all that it could find out about the matter, and that at the time was not much; a subscriber resident in the Uruguay read the affair, knew the clerk in questions and sent a full account of the business to his uncle in Wales, who it appears also knew Owen. Months passed by and the next event was that this clerk it appears returned to Wales and has been appointed to the managership of a bank there. Of course when Mr M.'s uncle heard of this, he did as every honorable man under like circumstances would do. He advised the bank of the fraud and the impropriety of maning this Owen to such an important trust. Owen at once took an action for damages and according to the advices by the mail, Mr M.'s uncle has been condemned to the fullest extent the law will allow.

Of course, at this distance, and with the imperfect knowledge of the facts, we are not prepared to say whether Owen, the clerk at the Wanklyn Bank, is the same man as the new manager of the bank in Wales; but if full particulars of the fraud had been published at the time, the jury would have been saved from condemning an innocent man. We understand that by the Douro's mail full accounts of the affair will be sent home, which may arrive in time for the trial of the appeal Some few days ago orders came up here to arrest a clerk as he landed from the steamer; but the passengers were all ashore and the bird fled before the commissary got the message. Meanwhile no one here knows anything about the matter save the Montevidean house that suffers in the affair. It is high time that a new system should be adopted in this market, and that the papers should not be importuned to keep quiet when it is a matter of public utility the publication of the very fullest details.

The first news this morning was the telegram from Montevideo announcing the entry of the Edinburgh Castle. Like all chartered boats, she was behind time. Her news is, however, of moment, both from England and Rio. The Bank of England rate has been raised to 3½; this is doubtless owing to the immense drain caused by the new French loan. Wool, hides and tallow stand well and prices firmer. The political news will be found in our telegraph column. Dates from Rio are to the 7th. Exchange—Bank rate up to 25d: commercial paper 25½ ¾. Respecting the ever disputed Mitre mission, private telegrams came up stating that everything is going on favourably.

The Municipality has just made the following payments on account of pavements—

$22,845 m/c. cash for paving Calle Matheu, between Victoria and Rivadavia.

$70,000 in Municipal Bonds for paving Calle Independencia, between San Jose and Lorea.

$12,500 in Municipal Bonds for paving Calle Paso, between Rivadavia and Piedad.

The Municipality holds in the Argentine Bank three millions of bonds hypothecated.

Last week the telegraph office was opened in Concepcion del Uruguay. The wires now connect with all the other provincial towns, but as yet are not open to the public with Buenos Ayres.

Advices from Rosario to-day were important. The tramway is all but finished, and will shortly be inaugurated. The run on the Credito Territorial has at last subsided. On Friday there was no longer a crowd at the bank. The institution held out well and paid everything—so best. The new colony at San Isidro, in the suburbs of Rosario, and on the road to San Lorenzo, is doing well. It was started by Sr. Avila. Each homestead is 20 squares.

The Entre Riano Government has just decreed the survey of all the municipal lands in and about each of the towns of that province. The measure may amount to something.

Last week the Treasury paid another instalment to Mr. Stuart for account of work done on the Rio Cuarto Railway—amount $159,330f. The works of this road are going ahead apace, and it will be finished in a few months.

The Douro leaves on Wednesday. She will not take such a full list this time, owing to the season. Chevalier Thwaites was expected on 'Change to-day; our friend Mr Marks forgot to favor as this trip with moms from the log, passenger list &c.

It was stated to-day that some boatmen from Parana have found some fresh samples of gold copper and iron up there; it may be so, but these people keep the affair to themselves and refuse to say where the mine exists.

The latest news about gas is that the coal and iron famine has brought all new companies to a stand tills, and if the new export tax be put on coal in England it is probable that we shall all soon have to take to kerosene. Notwithstanding all this Messrs. Hernandez and Salvanach have risked 4.000 pats to secure the Municipal contract for lighting Barracas with gas. They have two years to finish the work, $14.60 cts. for every municipal light, and for private lights the same charge as the Gas Company in town. The contract looks a good but dangerous one.

The National Government has named C Robles Customs collector at Nogoya.

Don Juan Jose Mendez will leave for Europe next year with the first steamer that is now building for the export of live cattle from the Plate to England. This long talked of enterprize is now in good hands, and will be carried out. Many salderistas think that there is no cattle to export, and hardly enough to keep the saladeros going.

On Sunday the only news in town was from Brazil by the Rio Grande steamer. We gave the telegram as we received it, although free to say that we do not attach the same importance that our Montevidean correspondent does to the departure of the generals to Alegrete. As we have already observed, the policy of the Brazilian Cabinet is to completely remodel the military system of Brazil, and the organization of this army in Rio Grande is but the carrying out of this measure. We mention these facts in order to allay any foolish apprehension as to the failure of the Mitre mission.

Some gentlemen who arrived by the Douro saw and conversed with General Mitre in Rio, and he assured them that everything was going on favorably, even more favorably than he expected.

There has been a good deal of money made within the last month or two in dry hides Prices have improved fully a patacon a hide, and it was said amongst the brokers to-day that one house has netted the sum of 7,000 pats. on the resale of a parcel of hides which it held for export.

Hides are at a fearfully high price in the plaza and some of the best houses in this market are buying strongly in anticipation of the increased demand which the change in the tariff will it is throught necessarily give rise to, but this is after all problematical for, even under the import tax which has now been abolished the supply of hides in the States was beginning to be felt too strong for the tanners. Of course that trade, like every other in that splendid country, is susceptible of great expansion, yet the tables published in this journal the other day of the receipt of hides at New York are truly wonderful, and well deserving of attention. In five years the import of hides in that market from all quarters rose from a million and a half to three millions three hundred thousand, and now, with the change in the tariff, we may look forward to the returns of the present year touching four millions. As for any great stock of dry hides in this market, as was rumored last week, the brokers and barraqueros deny it, and the party who was said to have 60,000 hides informed us that as fast as he bought he shipped, and that the report is nonsense.

Few subjects have caused greater notice in this market for some time past than Mr. Barker's Angora wool samples. There cannot be the slightest doubt that, with a little push, this new industry is susceptible of as great a development as the sheep industry was in the days of Sheridan. There are at present in Cordova six millions of goats, labour is cheap, camp roomy and ample scope with a little care and a trifle of capital, for making these six millions the nucleus of as great an industry as sheep is to-day in the River Plate. We are glad to be able to state that there is every probability of this development taking place. Mr. Barker leaves in the Douro for Europe, taking with him the samples which were exhibited at our office and on the Bolsa. The working of his establishment in Cordoba is well known to certain circles in Antwerp, and has given such satisfaction that we believe a large joint-stock company will be formed for the working of the industry on the very largest scale. Ten years hence, with care, industry, and capital, Mr. Barker looks forward to almost as great an export of Angora goat wool from Cordoba as there is to-day mestiza wool from Buenos Ayres. May his dream be realised!

The captain of the steamer Francisco, on arriving at Rosario the other day, lodged a protest with the Captain of that Port against the owners of some schooners who systematically refuse, although navigating in the night, to use lights. The result of this neglect is continual collisions. There is scarcely a steam-boat commander in the river who does not complain of the same conduct on the part of these schooners, and some regulation ought to be made to compel captains of these river craft to carry lights.

CLUB TELEGRAM. 11th.

Rio Grande, Calderon leaves to-day.

Cape Verde, Souvenir.

Letters from Rio Grande state that great warlike preparations are going on, and that several generals have left for Alegrete.

New York 18th—Gold 114⅜.

Rio 7th.—Exchange Bank rate 25. Sovereigns 9480, sellers.

European markets good. Wool, better position, waiting Antwerp Auction 30th July.

Hides active and prices firm.

Tallow calm, no alteration.

The sale of a lot of dry cowhides in the South Market this morning, at 190 per pesada, was the talk of the whole market. Never before was such a price paid. The lot was sold from deposit. Mr. Martinez buyer, Miranda seller.

Respecting the sale of sheepskins announced the other day at 400 per dozen there is much said. We have only to repeat the statement. The lot was a choice one from a Chascomus graseria, and that was the price paid.

Some important sales of capones were announced to-day at 53, 55, 58, and even 60 m/c each—most of the farmers to the north refuse to sell at even these rates.

Messrs. Jaimo Viera & Co. have applied to the Cordoba Municipality for sight to run two tramways in that city; the 1st from the railway station to the Paseo, and the 2nd from the new town to the market. Cordoba has yet to be developed, and perhaps the tramway may do something the; empresarios offer to deposit 5000 patacons as security and to finish the lines in 18 months.

Sor. Don J. M. Cullen of Rosario was welcomed on 'Change to-day, as also Mr. Andrew F. Lamas on his return from Rio.

Mr. Drabble leaves to-morrow for Montevideo having business to arrange there before departing in the Douro.

The Provincial Government has taken from the Bolsa one of its most distinguished members—Dn. Juan Antonio Fernaudez, to act on the committee for the superintendence of the very important works of the new prison. The gentlemen associated with Sr. Fernandez on this board are J. A. Acosta and Emilio Castro, ex-Governor. The discharge of this high trust will not, however, interfere with Sr. Fernandez's regular Bolsa business, and this is satisfactory, as no man stands higher or more deservedly esteemed in Bolsa circles than Sr. Fernandez. The new prison building will cost 18 millions. Mr. Bunge is the architect.

There was great business at the Government House to-day. The womens' hospital is to be at once removed to the old sanctarium on Buen Orden hill. The Policia is to be removed from the Plaza Victoria to the womens' hospital, and a horse police barrack is to be opened in the Plaza Lorea. These most excellent measures have been decided on, and will now be carried out.

SOUTH PLAZA. August 12.

Remarkable!

Dry hides from deposit, without conditions, were sold by Mr. Miranda.

Price obtained, $190 per posada of 35 lbs.

Purchaser, Sr. Martinez.

This price has never been surpassed.

ONCE DE SETIEMBRE. August 12th.

Arrivals to-day have been heavy and the stock on offer unusually large, especially of sheepskins, the quality of which was generally good.

Attendance was also much above the average, but trade was comparatively slow in consequence of the very high prices asked by sellers. Former rates were, however, well supported, and in some cases more money was paid.

The details of the business of to-day are as follow—

Ox and Cow-hides.

The stock on sale to-day was on an average and chiefly composed of good qualities.

The demand was good, but owing to the higher prices asked by holders, very few transactions were effected.

The following were the lots sold—

2 lots good matadero hides, 185 pesada

1 do camp, 183

1 do fair do, 178

Sheepskins.

Supplies were unusually heavy, especially of matadero skins. Demand ruled brisk at former rates, and in some instances higher prices were paid for the better descriptions of camp skins.

The following sales have been effected—

4 lots, 420 doz good matadero, rather fresh, and without any conditions at 28 r lb

1 do 80 doz good camp, free of desecho, $260

1 do 60 do 24 r lb

3 do 200 do fair do 22

1 do 70 do good camp 23

2 do 215 do fair do, desecho included, 21½

3 do 250 do do 21

3 do 220 do middling do 20.

Horse Hides.

No stock on hand to-day.

Horse Hair.

The lots on sale to-day were of an inferior quality, which, with one exception, met with a dull sale at former rates.

Lamb Skins.

Arrivals large to-day. The parcels offered sold freely at $17 to $18 per doz.

Tallow and Grease.

Demand was more active to-day, and the prices obtained for the latter article show a slight improvement on late rates. Of the former the stock was large, but no transactions took place, in consequence of holders demanding much higher rates.

300 ar. grease in panzas, $70.

Wheat.

The supply to-day was much above the average. Demand was brisk, and more money was paid for the best descriptions.

Sales were as follow:—

1 lot, Anchuelo, $185

1 do, superior quality, Barleta, 150

1 do do, 146

3 do, good, 142

4 do, fair, 136

6 do, middling, 133

3 do, inferior, 125

Maize.

The market was much firmer in tone to-day for the better qualities. Various lots changed hands $128, 126, 124, and 120 the fanega for that in espiga; desgranado at 106 and 105.

Although we sincerely hope that the Baron may not be brought to extremities, we must impartially say that considering the vast amount of ability spent in making the fact known, His Ex. would be in a measure warranted in giving thus way to honest indignation.

SAVINGS BANK

BANK MAUA AND CO.

101--Calle Cangallo--103

BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the the great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following noble example of their firm in Montevideo, offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositors a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood,

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P. P. MAUA & Co.,

M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM

CONDITIONS.

First--The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p. %) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire he whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds enty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wish can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

CALLE VICTORIA NO. ..

On Wednesday 28th and Thursday 29th of August at 12 a.m. by order and for account of said Mr. Latham.

150 rams of 15 and 16 months old, with corresponding growth of wool, of the unequalled breed of acclimated Rambouillets of Mr. Wilfred Latham, modified by selection to harmonize with the natural pasture, soil and climate of these countries. It is unnecessary to dilate on the merits of these sheep. Sheepfarmers know their perfection, but it may be stated that splendid as in other years have been, the present lot exceeds all in magnificence.

They have been bred with special view to their adaption to all requirements, and the range of soil and herbage in the different parts of the country. Sheepfarmers, therefore, will find in this lot, animals of size, weight of carcase, length and sub tance of wool, nicely graduated to suit all camps from the richest deep black loam, through all the grades of good and medium camps, and also the fine but less fattening camps, such as the Magdalena and others more or less similar.

The character of the wool is marvellously perfect and permanent, and no breed of weighty carcased Merinos can compare with them in shortness of leg and depth of carcase.

There will also be on sale 2 or 3 animals two years old.

The whole will be on view at No. 154 Calle Victoria three days previous to the Auction.

Sheepfarmers must be on the alert, and not the miss sale this year.

Bristol's sarsaparilla

Is prepared in the most scientific manner, by thoroughly educated chemists and Druggists, who have had many years' experience. It is not a simple extract from one article, but is compounded of extracts from a number of Roots, Herbs Barks, and Leaves, all of which are possessed of some particular virtue or power in curing the diseases that have their course in the blood and humors; these different vegetable extracts are combined in such a way as to retain, in so full strength, the special curative virtue possessed by each. The root of the Sarsaparilla plants found in Honduras, is that which we use in this preparation; it is the kind which all medical men esteem most. About fifty per cent. of Bristol's Sarsaparilla consists of the concentrated extract, the remainder, as above stated being composed of extracts from other powerful, cleansing and healing vebetable substances. It does not contain any thing that is dagerous or injurious to health, and in this, as in nearly every other respect, is entirely different from all other preparations sold under the name of Sarsaparilla.

By having our own agents at he places where the various roots, drugs, herbs and plants, composing our medicines, are produced, we are enabled to exercise that constant care in selection which insures uniformity of excellence, and we spare no money and no effort to procure the best—and only the best—of every article entering into their composition; and it is with the most abiding confidence we say, to be sick of all nations and all countries, that, in Bristol's Sarsaparilla you have a remedy more reliable than any before offered to you, and which will no disappoint you in the cure of.

Salt Rheum, Tetter, Scald Head,
Syphilis, or Veneral Disease,
Nervous and General Debility,
Old Sores, Ulcers, Tumors,
Abscesses, Boils, Eruptions
Scrofula or King's Evil,
Female Derangements,
White Swellings,
Fever and Ague,
Chills and Fever,
& Dumb Ague.

As a means of building up the consiitution that has been broken down by the excessive use of Mercury, Iron, or other Minerals, our Sarsaparilla will be found most excellent, and can be administered with safety to the weakest patients. As a purifier of the blood and humors, in the Spring and early Summer, it will the round unfailing. It can be taken freely at seasons, rainy or dry. For some of the above diseases, the use of the Sarsaparilly must be continued a considerable time, esp cially for those that are hereditary or constitutional in their nature—such as Scrofula: but a faithful compliance with the directions will always relieve and mitigate, and in a great majority of cases will effect a complete cure. It will also be found, in all of the above diseases, that a cure will be greatly hasted by using our Bristol's Sugar-coated Pills, in moderate doses, in connection with the Sarsaparilla; they carry off large quantities of morbific or diseased matter set free in the system by the Sarsaparilla, and in this way facilitate the return to normal functional operations. —cj—

B. Ayres Water Supply

Whereas, the City is built on soil now saturated with organic matter, and there is no outlet or drainage for dirty water, leaving it to foment and throw out deadly exhalations.

Moreover, as it would increase the danger to public health if we increased the consumption of water, and our machinery being unable to give out more than we do at present, and any attempt to pump more might lead to accident, and perhaps a suspension of water supply for the City:

Finally, in spite of our efforts we can only give 1½ million gallons, while the demand is much greater, and we calculate from 2 to 2½ million gallons for the summer.

We have hereby resolved to refuse any future application for water supply to public or private houses till the necessary drainage and steam-power be supplied.

Let this be communicated to Government and duly published.

DR. GREEVES'

BALSAM FOR CHILBLAINS.

AN INFALLIBLE CURE.

A MOST EFFICACIOUS PREVENTATIVE.

Dr. GREEVES' BALSAM is an Infallible Cure. Chilblains, one of those complaints, although very annoying and painful to those who are liable to them, is also one of those which, from its apparent insignificance, has never been carefully studied by the more eminent men of science. The result of Dr Greeves' experiments was this, "Desideratum," only perfected after repeated trials; and this "Balsam," after being extensively used by him, was handed over for preparation to the London and Liverpool Pharmacy, who alone have his original receipt. Its application is easy, and the desired result is attained after a very few applications.

Dr. GREEVES' BALSAM is a ready and agreeable application; will not injure the most tender skin, its composition being soap, yolk of eggs, with other emollient substances, which, united in proportion with aromatic extracts, form a cream similar to the most delicate of those used in the toilette of a lady.

Dr. GREEVES' BALSAM as an Efficacious Preservative against Chilblains.—Persons who live in countries exposed to a variable climate are always subject to the annoyance of this slight but disagreeable complaint, which is the result of congestion of the blood, paralysed in its ordinary circulation by rapid changes from a cold to a warm atmosphere, and vice versa. Persons using the Balsam as a preventative, will find it very valuable in cold or windy seasons, as a prevents the chapping of the skin, to which delicate persons are liable, and at the same time rendering it white and soft.

MODE OF APPLICATION.

AS A CURE.—Rub a little on the part affected night and morning. Generally three or four applications are sufficient; sometimes, however, it will be found necessary to continue for a longer time, as when the chilblains have reached a chronic stage. In cases where they have formed a sore, it will be advisable to warm the Balsam in a spoon, and apply it thus warm on a little cotton wool.

AS A PRESERVATIVE—Rub the Balsam every night, or every two nights (according to the susceptibility of the person using it) upon the parts more liable to be attacked by the Chilblains, as for instance the hands, feet, ears, &c., when it will be found, if used on days when the temperature is variable, that no Chilblains will appear.
